UNIONS GIVE ULTIMATUM TO AMMONS

500 March on Colorado State Capital and Make Demands for Striking Miners

RECALL THREATENED IF DEMANDS ARE NOT MET

Governor Refuses — Unionists Give Five Days' Grace—General Strike Voted For

DENVER, Dec. 18.—Five hundred trade unionists today marched to the state house to deliver an ultimatum to Governor Ammons in connection with the coal miners' strike in Southern Colorado. The delegation included the delegates to a state labor convention being held here. They demanded that the state militia be recalled from the strike district, the removal of a high official of the National Guard, and that all strikers now prisoners of the military authorities be turned over for civil trial. The unionists gave Governor Ammons five days to answer the demands, under the penalty of the circulation of a petition for his recall.

Last night the labor convention adopted resolutions favoring a general strike of union labor in Colorado in sympathy with the striking miners, and authorized the state executive committee to call the strike without further instructions.

Gov. Ammons Refuses

Governor Ammons refused emphatically today to accede to the demands of the Colorado unionists on behalf of the striking coal miners. It is believed the unionists will wait the five days as announced in their ultimatum would be given Governor Ammons, and then will call a general strike of union labor throughout Colorado. If the governor sticks to his decision the unionists say they will circulate a petition for his recall.

The unionists marched to the state house, carrying American flags and singing a strike song to the air of "The Battle Cry of Freedom." "Mother" Jones led the procession.

ANNIVERSARY OF WRIGHT'S FLYING

Monoplanes Circled in Air in Celebration of Success in Air

Made Ten Years Ago

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Soaring through the air in concerted move ment at an altitude of more than 1000 feet, three monoplanes swept over the Hemstead Plains aviation field for two hours yesterday morning in commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the first successful experiments conducted by the Wright brothers in flying heavier-than-air machines. Last evening Orville Wright was the guest of honor at a reception tendered by the Aero club of America in its quarters, where the anniversary day was further celebrated.

The trio ascended at 10 o'clock sharp, just ten years to the minute from the time when Wilbur Wright made his first successful flight at Kittyhawk, N. C. Aviation experts expressed regret that biplanes, which type the Wrights used in their first successful flights, were not available.

Those who ascended were Albert Heinrich, who flew the monoplane Swallow of twenty-five horsepower; J. B. McCue, an instructor in the Moisant school of aviation, who piloted the Bluebird, a monoplane which C. Mervine Wood flew to Washington, and C. Hild, who handled his own monoplane.

STRANGE STORY IS TOLD BY BOY

Three Years Wandered Over Country With Family of Mexicans

AT DETENTION HOME ASKING FOR CARE

Pitiful Story-Book Scene Was Enacted in Santa Ana Last Night

You have all seen the story-book picture of the tiny waif and his dog sitting in the snow on a doorstep on Christmas eve.

Last night at the Detention Home there was enacted part of a pitiful story that brings to mind that picture, all of it except the snow.

The children of the Home had all been tucked away in bed, and Superintendent L. H. Hill and his wife were retiring when the front door bell rang.

The superintendent went to the door and opened it, at the same time turning on the porch light.

There on the porch stood a ragged, dirty little fellow, and behind him an equally ragged little dog plaintively wagging a stub of a tail.

The appealing look into the superintendent's face was followed hesitatingly with words.

"Please, mister," said he, "is this an orphans' asylum?"

The superintendent took the little fellow in and after the fire was stirred up and the hungry lad given something to eat, he told Mr. and Mrs. Hill the story of his twelve years of life.

His name is Romeo Morris. Three years ago he was living in Albuquerque, N. M., when his parents died, and in some manner he was taken in charge by a Mexican family. This family proved to be wanderers, and they moved from place to place, taking the white boy with them.

About a week ago they came to Santa Ana, and the boy says that they camped on First street. A disagreement of some kind arose, and a man threatened to kill Romeo. Frightened, Romeo got away and went to town. In one of the stories he said that he wanted help, and he was directed to the Detention Home.

The boy evidently had not had a bath in weeks—probably months. He proved to be a bright, attractive little fellow.

SENATE IS BUSY ON THE CURRENCY BILL

One After Another the Hitchcock Amendments to Bill Were Voted Down

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The Senate worked hard today on the currency bill. One after another of Senator Hitchcock's amendments was voted down. An amendment by which it was sought to increase the gold reserve behind the reserve notes from thirty-three and a half per cent to forty-five per cent, was lost by a vote of 42 to 40. The Democratic caucus had agreed to increase the reserve to forty per cent.

The proposal to increase the reserve banks' minimum capacity from three million to five million was defeated by a vote of 40 to 43. Senator Root supported the Democrats in opposing a plan that the government instead of the banks should choose the majority of directors on the reserve board. The vote in favor of bank control was 44 to 36.

PASADENA, Dec. 18.—A sixty-ton electric locomotive ran away and went chasing down a steep grade in this city this morning. It crashed through a street car at terrific speed, hitting the car to kindling. It finally left the tracks two miles from its starting point, cutting down a telephone pole and a palm tree, then hurdled a curb, at last bringing up in the front yard of a bungalow.

The crew and passengers of the street car saw the runaway coming in time to escape. Motorman Sternberg of the runaway jumped before the car had reached too great a speed, but Trolleyman Imbler failed to jump and rode to the end of the wild trip without injury.

Run on Central Bank Continues—Other Banks Affected—Rebels Burn Los Reyes

EL PASO, Dec. 18.—A new revolution broke out in Mexico today. Generals Orozo and Salazar, the most powerful of Provisional President Huerta's commanders, have united with Felix Diaz and Emilio Gomez. The leaders of the new revolt assert that Zapata, who is leading the southern rebels, will join the movement.

This development explains yesterday's break when Orozo and Salazar deprived General Mercado of the command of the federal troops at Ojinaga. Between them the new leaders control four thousand troops formerly in the federal service, who are well armed but who have not been paid for many weeks by the Mexican government.

RUMORS OF ATTACKS ARE RIFE IN MEXICO CITY

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 18.—The air is thick today with conflicting rumors of impending attacks on the capital. One report said that Zapatistas were closing in on the south, and another that Villa was ready to move southward from Chihuahua with 15,000 men. A third report was that the rebel force recently beaten at Tam-pico, is preparing to descend on Mexico City or Vera Cruz.

The Central Bank run has continued, and big failures are expected hourly. Heavy withdrawal of deposits from the bank of London and Mexico was a feature of yesterday. A double line of holders of notes stretched a block from the doors of the Central Bank yesterday when it opened and when it closed in the afternoon those half way in the line at the beginning did not reach the paying teller's window.

MASKED MEN HELD UP RUIZ

Robbers Took $5, a Ring and Overcoat from Man at First and Lyon

Two masked men held up Leonard Ruiz of Tustin at the corner of East First and Lyon streets last night and helped themselves to $5 in silver and a gold band ring that he had on a finger. Thoughtful of the chilly night, they made Ruiz take off his overcoat which they appropriated to their own use.

Ruiz was walking in the middle of the street about 9 o'clock as he was returning to his home at Tustin. On the north side of the street are a number of big pepper trees, and from their shade came the two robbers. Each bandit had his face masked, and both talked good English, yet the accent of one of the pair was such that Ruiz felt sure the man was a Mexican.

The language used was direct and to the point, backed up with a menacing revolver. Ruiz did as directed. He put his hands right up over his head in a prompt and obliging manner, and he held them there as many a man subjected to unlawful hold-up has done in times past.

The robbers searched every pocket. When they had taken the coin ring and overcoat, they left Ruiz standing in the road and made off on the run through the orange orchard at the southwest corner of East and First streets.

A few seconds later Percy Rice of Tustin came along in an automobile and picked Ruiz up. Rice found a much frightened man. On reaching Tustin Rice called up City Marshal Jernigan, who went out with Officer Davenport in an effort to locate the hold-up men. Ruiz's descriptions are far from accurate.

FIRST PAPERS ALWAYS GOOD

Ruling that Those Issued Before Sept. 27, 1906, Are Void Changed

By a recent ruling of the court, the naturalization department has concluded to accept as legal all first papers of naturalization issued before Sept. 27, 1906. Notice to this effect has been received by County Clerk Williams.

In the last few months the clerk has declined to accept first papers taken out before Sept. 27, 1906, and in some instances applicants have taken out new first papers. This was all in accordance with the instructions of the naturalization examiners.

The letter to Williams states that in the case of Eichhorst vs. Lindsey the courts held that an old naturalization paper was good, and for that reason the department has raised the seven-year limit.

AT THE COURT HOUSE CASE COMES TO VERY SUDDEN END

Demingues Suit for $3500 for Death of Son is Non-Suited

Failing to prove culpability, failing also to prove other necessary things, Attorney A. J. Green of Los Angeles today lost his civil action before Judge Thomas, and Benesla Demingues of El Modena went back to his home with his suit for $3500 damages thrown out of court.

Several months ago Demingues' son Paul, was killed when his motorcycle and a motorcycle ridden by Floyd Fritts and his wife collided at El Modena. Demingues' complaint, filed later, asked for $3500 for the loss of his son, alleging Fritts to have been responsible for the accident. The trial was set for two weeks ago, but Attorney Green had failed to subpoena his witnesses, and the case was continued until today.

Witnesses put on by the plaintiff proved that Paul Demingues was riding only about fifteen miles an hour when the accident occurred.

After the plaintiff finished its testimony Attorney Clyde Bishop for the defendant moved for a non-suit, stating that the plaintiff had not proven any case. Judge Thomas ruled with Bishop, and the trial ended forthwith.

Incidentally the information coming from Manager Eastin is to the effect that but two Japanese were kidnapped Tuesday night, and not five as reported at first.

The Villa Park packing house is located four miles from Orange, and the problem of getting expert packers is a serious one. Packers who live at Orange do not care to work so far away from home. From last May until about three weeks ago, the packing house tried to get along by employing white help only. Three weeks ago the directors concluded that the house could not get along with the shortage of packers, and the manager was authorized to hire five Japanese. These men were hired and have been at work ever since. They are the only Japs employed by the association.

Tuesday night about 12:30 o'clock two of the Japs were in the packing house, where they sleep, and three were away. The Japs heard a knock at the door, and opened it. Six or eight white men entered. They loaded the Japs into a three-seated rig, left a note pinned to the packing foreman's door, telling him that the employment of Jap help would have to stop, and then took the Japs to Anaheim, where they were put aboard the midnight train bound for San Diego. The Japs got off at Santa Ana, hired an automobile, and were at work yesterday morning.

No complaint has been sworn to as yet. The officers would not know who to arrest should they be given warrants. Manager Eastin thinks the visitors were irresponsible young fellows from Orange. Yesterday the situation was explained to Sheriff Rudock, and one of the white employees of the packing house was appointed as a deputy sheriff to take action should there be another disturbance.

Lucas came into court to testify that they were with him elsewhere. Lucas was recognized, and was arrested.

Pacific Coast Mail Order Houses Held Up by Postmaster in San Francisco

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 18.—Whole-sale complaints made recently to Postmaster Thomas Fox have caused that official to order an investigation of the methods used by several Pacific coast mail order houses, said to be abusing the new parcels post regulation permitting the shipment of merchandise through the mail, collecting on delivery.

FROM THE GOVERNORSHIP TO BASEBALL

Even today to many of our sober old-timers baseball is a kind of "kid" game. They view it as good, wholesome exercise for boys, but when a man quits his ledgers to howl on the grand stands they think it is time to get a commercial report on his credit.

Persons taking this view will not comprehend how John K. Tener, governor of Pennsylvania, could prejudice his political career to become president of the National Baseball League, even giving up promising chances of a United States senatorship by so doing.

Thereby they fail to realize the large opportunity that professional baseball opens today to men possessing certain qualities. Of course, the business side of it is hardly the career to which you can recommend a young man. When your $15,000 beauty may go wrong merely from twisting his ankle in getting off a trolley car, you run up against hazards surpassing those of the green cloth.

A few years ago it was estimated that the American people spent $15,000,000 annually on professional ball. A number of team franchises are valued at $1,000,000 or over. The vast coliseums of steel and concrete going up in the larger cities are indications that the managers are looking to a business future where profits of single teams will run well up toward a million.

Next to the gift for finding stars material in uncouth and immature specimens, probably a gift for diplomacy counts highest in this business.

Baseball players are one of the most high-strung types of personality in existence. The marvelous alertness of eye and nerve that give them their physical skill make many of them sensitive to slights, cause them to brood over real and fancied wrongs. Governor Tener will find the job of harmonizing all these conflicting hopes and ambitions even more difficult than placating "the boys" in politics.

THE WASTE OF FUEL

The advancing price of coal has been such of recent years as to lead to federal investigations, now under way. But not merely have the prices of coal kept increasing, also the old-time stand-by, the wood pile, is not the cheap provider of winter comfort as of yore.

In large cities the prices asked for enough wood to feed a fireplace or kitchen stove are frequently prohibitive. In rural sections the forest rather than the coal mine is often the main dependence for fuel. In many villages prices are being paid that represent a big advance in cost of living.

The fuel wood supply of this country has been scandalously wasted. lax regulation and public carelessness has permitted forest fires to sweep off in a day the supplies of a town for a generation. In cutting, isolated wood piles are often forgotten and left to rot on the ground. Every vestige of a tree is swept off. If young trees could but be spared, another crop would be ready for marketing about half the time it now takes to grow a forest.

The American people have no conception of the thrifty, prudent way in which in other lands the supplies of wood fuel are utilized and husbanded. The gathering of "fagots" seems to be a regular trade, and every scrap of dead wood in the forest is utilized. In many sections of Europe certain kinds of trees seem more like big tassels on the tops of poles. The lower limbs are cut off periodically, and form a cheap fuel supply for people who can afford nothing better.

Now that so many of the natural resources of the country are being exhausted, it is time to devise means for better utilization. In forest lands scattered wood piles, dead limbs, and limbs from cut trees are rotting on the ground, sufficient to warm the poor people of a city.

THE CITRUS FRUIT INDUSTRY

Department of Service to Citrus Fruit Growers, Conducted Especially for the Register.

Copyrighted by Reginald Brinsmead.

PUT THE BEST FOOT FORWARD FOR 1915

With a definite goal in view it is frequently easier to obtain results than is the case where no definite object is held up; and a campaign to "clean up" the citrus districts at this time, to place orchards, shade trees, homes, yards and vacant lots in readiness for 1915, looks like a good move in the right direction.

A "slovenly" farming is usually a sign of a poor farmer, so the slovenly community is seldom found to be a prosperous one, or the unkempt citrus orchard the most profitable; and the "best kept" citrus districts will be looked upon by the many visitors in 1915 as the most desirable residence sections and as possessing the most profitable orange and lemon groves.

A neat orchard frontage, free from weeds, with well cared for, well pruned shade trees, with rose bushes neatly trimmed, or perhaps selections of other varieties of flowering shrubs carefully cultivated, attracts the eye and draws attention to the orchard itself; and as in the case of the individual, so will the attractive community draw attention to itself, and in the case of the citrus district will prove an important factor in advertising and creating demand for its product.

The movement already on foot in some districts toward having the shade trees pruned early enough to guarantee their being in good condition in 1915 is a practical one, and one which could be profitably followed by every citrus fruit growing district throughout the state. The progressive community, the attractive, well cared for citrus district, will advertise itself, and in so doing increase the demand for its product. The best kept orchards, shade trees, streets, homes and packing houses will create lasting impressions and increase the inquiry for the fruit and pack therefrom. The care of the shade tree, more particularly those quick growing varieties which call at times for heavy pruning, should at least be undertaken far enough ahead to enable the best growth by the time our exposition visitors arrive.

Apart from the desire to "put the best foot forward" in 1915, both directly and indirectly, well kept shade trees are the best of impressions.

FORGERY AND PERJURY A MENACE TO POPULAR RULE

Franklin Hichborn, in last week's issue of the San Francisco Star, shows the menace of forgery and perjury in connection with the circulation of petitions invoking the referendum and recall. Names have been forged by thousands to such petitions, and circulators of the petitions have committed wholesale perjury, by swearing that the forged signatures were affixed in the circulators' presence, by those whose names have been forged.

Hichborn shows that those guilty of forgery and perjury last year in connection with the initiation of a bill to legalize racetrack gambling were not prosecuted, except in one instance, although the evidence against them was conclusive. In the one exceptional case, the forger and perjurer was convicted, but was allowed to walk out of the courtroom on probation, practically a free man, as was predicted at the time that the failure to prosecute the perjurers and forgers would encourage the criminal and semi-criminal elements to resort to forgery and perjury, in invoking the initiative and referendum to block the purposes of the people of California.

Hichborn, in the Star article, shows that these predictions have to an alarming extent been fulfilled. Forged names have been found on all the referendum petitions which were circulated after adjournment of the 1913 legislature. On petitions to hold up measures aimed at correction of ten-year-old conditions literally thousands of forged signatures have been found. This is particularly true of the Grant-Bennett Redlight Abatement act.

This measure, Hichborn shows, gives the plain citizen powers, at present held exclusively by district attorneys, to proceed against houses of prostitution as a nuisance. He shows that with this law in effect, no house of prostitution could exist in the residence portion of any community, and that in addition unclean investments in the exploitation of the unfortunate women of the underworld, amount to millions of dollars, would be rendered insecure.

Investors in underworld enterprises have attacked this law, and held it up before the referendum. So many forgers appear on the referendum petitions, Hichborn shows, that it has been alleged that without these forgeries the petitions do not contain a number of names sufficient to prevent the measure going into effect.

"If that be the case," says Hichborn, "men guilty of felonies—forger and perjurer—have by forgery and perjury set aside an act of the legislature. And serious though this is, the incident suggests even more serious possibilities. If the criminal and semi-criminal elements are permitted to believe that forgery and perjury in connection with direct legislation petitions can be committed with impunity, then the initiative and referendum and recall, instead of remaining society's best safeguards, will be employed by the criminal element against society."

But the writer points out that all that is necessary to protect society against such forgery and perjury, is vigorous enforcement of the law against the forger and the perjurer. When a district attorney fails to act in such cases, the governor is empowered under the law to call upon the state attorney general to prosecute in the place of such district attorney.

Such a play is "The Rosary," written by Edward E. Rose expressly for Ed. W. Rowland, Jr., and produced by him.

The theme of the play concerns a man and a woman happily married and surrounded with every luxury that money and culture can secure. But the husband is an unbeliever, an atheist, without faith of any kind.

There is a jarring note in the household harmony, a personality at war with the peace and love of its members. No one notices this until a friend of the husband comes, Father Kelly, a priest of the modern world with a deep insight into human nature and a divine love for his fellow men. And when stress and trouble come, when the home is wrecked and husband and wife are brought down

AMUSEMENTS

At the present day when so many plays are being presented which deal with questionable subjects, it is a relief to turn to a drama which breathes purity and good fellowship and leads the way to a brighter view of life and humanity.

Coach Ratcliffe and Wife and Miss Phillips Tender "Feed" to Players

Coach Ratcliffe, close to the hearts of the S.A.H.S. football players; Mrs. Ratcliffe, first aid to her husband, and Miss Beth Phillips, prime favorite with the pigskin devotees, most delightfully entertained the fellows of the high school football team last evening. Responding to instructions hinted in the unique invitations, the boys rallied at the South Birch street home of Prof. and Mrs. Ratcliffe, then went to the Phillips residence, 609 South Sycamore, accompanied by the Ratcliffes.

The pretty bungalow home was cheery with bright lights, and a hearty welcome awaited the guests. The dining room was especially attractive to the fellows of the team, it being adorned appropriately for football proponents. Two long tables were invitingly spread for a "feed" and above each table was suspended a football, a small one in colors of red and white and inscribed with the inspiring letters, "S. A. H. S." being used at the table where Prof. Ratcliffe and Manager Eaton were at the head and foot respectively. Over the other table where the newly elected captain, "Spud" Morrison, and the retiring captain, "Bill" Warren, had the places of honor, a big new football, lately presented to the team was suspended. Masses of holly in brown baskets were the centerpieces. A three course dinner was served with Mrs. Ratcliffe and Miss Phillips waiting on the table with the efficient aid of Misses Greba Scott, Rena Cranston and Helen Phillips. The clever place card, the work of Miss Dorothy Twist, each bore the painted figure of a football player in action.

A spirited football game was played on the tables after the final course of the banquet had been removed. An egg shell, emptied of its contents, took the place of the usual pigskin, and the goals were spools set up on the table. The football was blown on its dexterous way, and the players with the most ample lungs and the huskiest breath appeared to advantage. The remainder of the evening was spent in various games, a contest at "Pit," story telling, songs and yells of appreciation for the host and hostesses and the new and old captains. Lotus Morrison, commonly known as "Spud," was chosen as captain to succeed Will Warren, who had been highly popular and whose term of office automatically closes by his graduation from high school this year.

Those at the tables last evening were: Coach Ratcliffe, Messrs. Lotus Morrison, Will Warren, Lawrence Eaton, Marvin Morrison, Raymond Seiph, Petz, Heffner, Herbert Timmons, Homer Robinson, Bruce Wallace, Elmer Whitton, Beverly Anderson, Claire Burkett, George Waters, Joseph Irvine, Harold Holzgrave, Alfred Catland, Lennox Covington.

WEEKLY CITRUS RECIPE

Orange Souffle
Ingredients: Half pint of milk, three tablespoons of flour, four eggs.

Place the milk in a double boiler on the stove. Molten the flour in about three tablespoons of milk. Add to it gradually the balance of the milk, heated in boiler. Mix and place back in double boiler. Cook over the fire until smooth and thick.

Take from the stove, add the yolks of the eggs well beaten, stir in gradually the stiffly beaten whites. Pour into twelve greased cups. Place cups in a pan partially filled with water and bake in a moderately quick oven (about twenty minutes).

When baked take carefully from cups, placing them upon individual saucers, serving with orange sauce made as follows:

Orange Sauce: One tablespoon of flour, half pint of boiling water, half cup of sugar, scant one egg, juice and grated rind of one large ripe orange.

Mix flour and sugar thoroughly together, add hastily to boiling water, stir over the fire until it reaches the boiling point. Take from the fire, add the grated rind and juice of the orange and pour carefully while hot over the egg, which has been well beaten.

Turner on North Main street.

Holly and greenery and that royal Christmas flower, the poinsettia, were effectively used in decoration suggestive of the season. On the library table was a tiny Christmas tree sparkling with tinsel ornaments and Old Santa himself, who had come down the chimney, beamed upon the guests from the fire logs.

A large attendance testified to the interest the ladies have in this branch of the church work.

Mrs. Crose, the president, read the scripture lesson, followed by prayer. Mrs. W. H. Crose favored the audience with a piano solo, and Elizabeth Bruner sang "A Cradle Song."

A service in Memoriam of Mrs. C. H. Stearns was held. Her comparatively brief stay here and her relations to the community as neighbor and friend, and her work in this church were spoken of feelingly by Mesdames W. S. Decker, W. H. Crose and several others.

One of the Mission Study books this year is "The King's Business." Mrs. W. S. Peek reviewed the first three chapters of it, giving the ladies a good concise view of their contents.

Mrs. A. B. Gardner spoke on the topic, "Our Missionaries," speaking of Dr. Susan B. Talmon's work in China. Mrs. N. A. Beals gave a fine talk on the work of our mission schools in New Mexico.

After the business delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, the dainties being suggestive of the Christmas season.

FOR BRIDAL COUPLE

Mrs. E. B. Burns Entertains With Dinner in Honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Delese

A charming little dinner party was given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Burns, the affair being complimentary to Mr. John Delese and his charming bride, formerly Miss Elsie Harrison. This bridal couple, recently returned from a brief honeymoon trip, are receiving many social attentions prior to their departure after the first of the year for their future home in Evanston one of the most beautiful of Chicago's suburbs.

Mrs. Burns used holly in decorating the lovely Burns home, giving it a real Christmasy atmosphere. Poinsettias, brilliant in color and velvety in texture, were massed in a basket in the center of the table. Smilax wreathed about the flowers, extended through the center of the table, its delicate tendrils showing prettily against the white linen.

Clovers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Delese; Mrs. James Harrison, the bride's mother; Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Gilbert; Miss Ethel French, Mr. and Mrs. Burns, Miss Gladys Burns and Carl Burns. Merry chat interested the guests through the six-course dinner in which the Christmas color scheme was continued. In the evening following, Mrs. Delese sang and Miss Gladys Burns played piano numbers, the music supplementing the conversation that was the chief entertainment of the evening.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

HE SUGGESTS WALNUT CITY AS ITS NAME

Tiede Thinks Chief Product
Should Be Given Recognition
That Way

"The Walnut City." How is that for a name for Santa Ana?

A. C. Tiede, secretary of the Santa Ana Walnut Growers' Association, was before the directors of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce last night with a suggestion that the directors begin the use of that name and if possible popularize its use among newspapers in referring to Santa Ana.

Tiede pointed out that last year
3,163 tons of walnuts were shipped from Santa Ana, for which nearly $1,000,000 was received. No place in the United States shipped more walnuts than Santa Ana. This year the shipments are larger, and with new orchards coming in every year the industry is going to keep on holding rank.

Some of the Los Angeles papers often speak of Santa Ana as The Celery
City. The celery is not shipped through the Santa Ana packing houses at all, and celery in this country hardly holds a candle to a number of other crops.

The matter was talked over by the directors last night, but no action was taken. The objection raised was that the adoption of the name might give the idea that Santa Ana is a one-crop city, which it is not. Walnuts are but one of the many great wealth producers in this section.

Still Has Hope

Secretary Metzgar still has hope that Santa Ana is going to be recognized on the Weather Bureau map. A decision was made against locating a station here, but Metzgar has succeeded in getting the matter reopened. Last night he read a letter from
C. F. Marvin, chief of the bureau in which it was stated that further consideration is being given the matter.

Other Matters

A letter was received from Congressman Kettner asking Metzgar to suggest names of farmers who would grow experimental crops of an acre each with three Mexican dry lands crops. He wants five men to raise alfalfa, seven to raise topary, a kind of bean, and twenty to raise feterita, a kind of Kaffir corn. Any person desiring to experiment on any of these crops should leave his name with Metzgar.

Joseph Moriarity on Trial for Life, Accused of Having Slain His Wife

WEALTHY WIDOW GETS LAWYERS FOR DEFENSE

Arrest of Suspect Made One Year After Crime Had Been Committed

TOMS RIVER, N. J., Dec. 18.—J. C. Williams, wife of a gardener on the estate of George Gould, Joseph Moriarity, alias William H. Lechan, today went on trial for his life. The state was represented by former Prosecutor Theodore R. Brown, Prosecutor Harry E. Newman, and former United States District Attorney Walter Bacon. Moriarity was represented by Wilfred Jayne, T. T. Ten Breeck Stout.

Moriarity is practically penniless. His attorneys were retained by Mrs. Jasper Lynch, wealthy society woman of Lakewood, who has interested herself in the defendant's case and beieves him the victim of a conspiracy.

Moriarity is thirty years of age and has a wife and child. He has been confined in the Ocean county jail since his arrest last April at Fort Lee, N. J., by Sheriff Frank Tilton, after a sensational hunt for the murderer. A bitter fight by the defense is expected when the prosecution expects to attempt to produce evidence, dictagraph records of conversations Moriarity is said to have had with a Catholic priest in his cell here.

ENGLAND PLANS FOR ULSTER WAR RESULT

Forms League to Care for Women and Children in Case Conflict Should Materialize

LONDON, Dec. 18.—A widespread movement, having for its object the care of the women and children of Ulster in the event civil war should follow the enactment of the Home Rule bill, is under way in England. At the instance of the British League for the support of Ulster, many women throughout the country who are favorable to the cause of the anti-Home Rulers have agreed to each take a certain number of mothers and children and to house them during the continuance of hostilities.

Others are forming nursing corps, and from various sections reports are coming in of large numbers of volunteers for this service. The League claims to have more than 300 recruiting agents in the field throughout England, Scotland and Wales, and says that men are pledging themselves at the rate of a hundred a day to join the proposed Ulster Auxiliary Force.

WAS ATTACKED BY AN INFURIATED BULL

A. L. Stewart, formerly of Fullerton, well known in this county, is slowly recovering from injuries sustained by the attack of an infuriated bull, and probably owes his life to the fact that the animal had been dehorned. The attack of the bull was made as Stewart entered the corral on horseback.

The force of the charge was such as to send the horse backward and down, after rearing upon its hind legs in an effort to escape. Both horse and rider were thrown upon the ground.

The bull continued the attack and in the fight which followed, Stewart was assisted materially by the fact that the horse was between himself and the bull. Armed with a heavy hammer, which he happened to have in his hand upon entering the corral, Stewart was able to defend himself until the arrival of one of the Mexicans in his employ, who rushed to the rescue.

Stewart has three fractured ribs and is otherwise injured.

DEMAND PRICES FOR BEETS BE $5.25

Beet Growers' Association
Fights Reduction Offered
by Factories

SAY THEY WILL NOT GROW AT $4.50 TON

At Meeting Held Yesterday,
Said that Free Sugar Will Kill Industry

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—Tariff or no tariff, the growers of sugar beets in Southern California are determined that they are going to get as much for their produce as they have been receiving in the past. And if the sugar factories refuse to pay them the amount they ask, because of the decreasing protective duty, it is asserted that fully 35,000 acres now devoted to the raising of sugar beets in this section will be used for other crops.

This was the action taken yesterday by the Southern California Beet Growers' Association, at a meeting held in the association's offices, 911 Trust and Savings building. The opinion was expressed that the beet sugar industry, now the second largest agricultural industry in California, will be entirely abandoned by the time sugar is placed on the free list in 1916.

$4.50 a Ton is Offered

The sugar factories have been paying $5.25 per ton for beets the last two years, but are endeavoring to get the growers to accept $4.50 per ton this year anticipating the tariff reduction. The directors of the association were unanimous in the opinion that the farmers of Southern California cannot grow beets for less than $5.25 per ton. About 35,000 acres of beet-growing land is represented by the membership of the association.

"Both the factories and the growers' association are certain that before all the tariff goes off in 1916 the industry will be entirely abandoned, as it will be impossible for American growers to compete with cheap foreign labor," said Jay E. Randall in a statement issued last evening.

$15,000,000 Expended in 1913

"During 1913 this industry expended in the state nearly $15,000,000, of which approximately $7,000,000 went to the growers, $4,000,000 for labor in factory and field, $2,000,000 to the railways for freight and the balance for oil, lime rock and supplies. More than 112,000 acres were planted to sugar beets and 170,000 tons of sugar produced. The factories have invested in land, equipment and plants to the estimated value of $20,000,000. This immense business has been built up under the protection of the tariff and its abolition will be a severe blow to many ranchers in the state."

At its meeting yesterday the association determined upon a campaign to seek aid for the industry, in the way of bounty from the government.

FRANCE MAY BUILD OWN AEROPLANES

Plan Will Likely Be Made by Private Concerns Selling
Airships to Nation

PARIS, Dec. 18.—The French government, it was announced today, has taken under consideration the advisability of building its own aeroplanes. Fierce opposition to the plan will undoubtedly be made by private concerns now supplying the War Department with aerial machines.

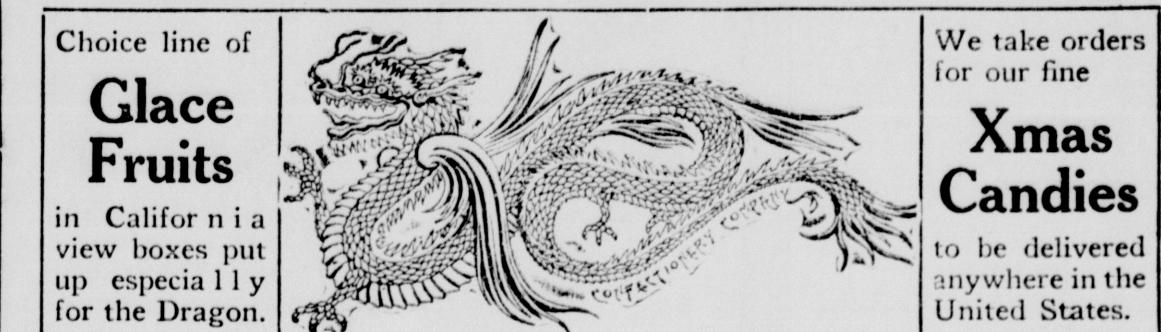

The government already possesses at Chalais Meudon splendidly equipped army workshops where airplane repairs are carried out. Machines could just as well be manufactured there in their entirety, it is pointed out, especially since the government specifications for aeroplanes compel practically a single type of biplane and a single type of monoplane for its use. At present six firms furnish these aeroplanes to the government.

CHINA SEEKING CUSTOMS TAX INCREASE

Nation's Custom Service in Hands of Foreigners for the Past Fifty Years

PEKIN, Dec. 18.—Sun Poa-chi, minister of foreign affairs, today sounded the various foreign ministers in regard to China's desire to materially increase her customs duties, which are supposed to be 5 per cent, but which are as low as 3 per cent in many instances, due to the inability of the government to enforce fines. The present customs tariff has been in force since 1902, by virtue of a treaty Great Britain and subsequent agreements with several nations.

Legally speaking, China, as a full fledged nation, has a right to draw up and enforce her own customs tariff, modified only by the customary favored nation treaties entered into by all countries. However, China's customs service has been in the hands of foreigners for nearly fifty years, and no tax on imports can be imposed by China without the sanction of treaties. The administration of the Chinese customs service by foreigners, under the direction of the late Sir Robert Hart, was of inestimable benefit to China, as well as satisfactory to the world at large.

The control of the country's tariff by treaty with the powers has also worked well in the main, when China's financial needs were small, but now that China is modernizing rapidly, it is only a question of time when she will demand the inalienable right to fix her tariff regulations and rates to suit herself.

For the present, however, the old system will be adhered to, as indicated by the note of Minister Sun Poa-chi. No ratio of the contemplated tax on imports is indicated in the note, but it is understood on good authority that high republican officials believe that the present rate of 5 per cent should be at least 12½ per cent, if not 15 or 20 per cent. It is feared that the powers will do nothing in the matter for at least a year.

WATERWAYS TO BE THEME OF BIG MEET

All Public Bodies Invited to Aid in Internal Benefit for California

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17.—A call has been issued for the Internal Waterways Congress proposed by the Commonwealth Club, which is directing the arrangements. The congress will be held here from January 15 to 17. Its main object will be to arouse public sentiment to the importance of getting water transportation from the interior valleys to salt water and of devising ways to that end.

Every board of supervisors, every irrigation district, every city government, the entire California Legislature, the entire Congressional delegation of California, Senator Newlands of Nevada and experts who have special knowledge of commerce, of irrigation and other related matters, have been invited to attend the congress.

William R. Wheeler, manager of the traffic bureau of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of the Commonwealth Club's committee on internal waterways. Commenting on the purposes in view in calling the meeting, he said:

"The Panama Canal is going to bring great opportunities to California, but if we desire to reap the advantages of these opportunities we must improve our facilities for bringing the products of our interior districts to tidewater. Our two great rivers—the Sacramento and the San Joaquin—together with various smaller rivers, creeks and sloughs, either now navigable or capable of being made navigable, afford us many advantages."

"The countries of Europe have covered their lands with a network of canals and canalized creeks and rivers with the result of providing the cheapest transportation to and from the producer. We, in California, have neglected to use even the arteries of transportation that nature has provided."

"We have many problems to settle in obtaining the same benefits that have accrued to the people of the European states through their waterways, and it is to aid in solving these problems in a way to assist all interests—the interests of irrigation and reclamation, and the domestic use of water—that we have decided to call together the Internal Waterways Congress."

FACTS AND FICTION

Experiences of Santa Ana Citizens Are Easily Proven to Be Facts

The most superficial investigation will prove that the following statement from a resident of Santa Ana is true. Read it and compare evidence from Santa Ana people with testimony of strangers living so far away you cannot investigate the facts of the case. Many more citizens of Santa Ana endorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

Martin O'Meara, 518 E. First St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "I have never used anything for kidney trouble so satisfactory as Doan's Kidney Pills. I had that complaint for a long time and the kidney secretions bothered me. The kidney secretions pained me in passage and I had to void them during the night. Whenever I use Doan's Kidney Pills my back gets stronger and the trouble with the kidney secretions is corrected. I am thankful for the relief they have given me."

GRAFT IN PANAMA CANAL COMMISSARY STOUTLY DENIED

COLON, Dec. 18.—Lieut. Col. Eugene T. Wilson, chief subsistence officer for the Panama Canal Commission and head of the department under which John E. Burke is employed, as manager of the canal commissary department, yesterday characterized as absolutely untrue the intimation that Burke had profited by the placing of contracts for supplies.

Rumors to this effect were current on the isthmus two months ago, but investigation showed that they were without foundation according to Lieut. Col. Wilson, who said that the chief accountant of the commission had examined the major portion of Burke's accounts and had discovered no discrepancy.

"WHY WHISKERS?" IS QUESTION BEING PROBED IN ITALY

ROME, Dec. 18.—"Il Rostro del Carino," a leading Italian daily, which has been conducting an investigation into the reasons for the decreasing popularity of whiskers and why those who still wear them persist in the evil, today announced its findings. As regards the bewhiskered ones it found that 40 per cent of them have been told by physicians that whiskers prevent toothache, tonsils, sore throat and kindred evils; 20 per cent are workmen, engaged in dusty occupations, the whiskers protecting the respiratory organs by "ambushing" and waylaying all germs and particles of dirt that seek to slip by; the remaining 40 per cent are about equally divided between those who imagine that whiskers are beautiful and those who do not shave either because they are too poor or because they are too lazy.

SAY MILLER IS IMPOSTER

Posed as Millionaire, Shipped Before His Wedding Day

Month at Anaheim But He Made a Hit on Story of Wealth

ANAHEIM, Dec. 18—Paul Miller of Cleveland, supposedly a millionaire, disappeared between the light of two days, leaving his fiancee, Mrs. Nina Wood Smith, proprietor of the Iowa House, and numerous creditors in the lurch.

Miller arrived a month ago and purchased the Beebe-Weisel Implement store and several automobiles. He bought several hundred dollars worth of jewelry of Theodore Roberts and clothing of Fritz Youngbluth and August Kuehn.

He stated that he had money tied up in United States bonds, which were to fall due today, and was thus able to borrow $500 from various people, including Mrs. Smith. He had agreed to marry Mrs. Smith today. The day before he left he told Mrs. Smith that he had to go to San Pedro on business and it was not until the chamber maid went to his room yesterday morning to do the work that it was found that his baggage was gone. Miller appeared to be a man of refinement and had very pleasing manners.

Perhaps the heaviest loser of all was Theodore Roberts, the jeweler. Miller is said to have got numerous articles from that store, including a watch, diamond and a silver toilet set. When asked about it this morning Mr. Roberts did not care to discuss the matter.

Borrowed $103

Martin Caspers, from Arizona, who has been stopping at the Iowa House, said that Miller had hypnotized him, and he had loaned him $103.

Nina M. Smith, who runs the Iowa rooming house, said that he owed her $12 room rent. Also she said that he asked to borrow $25 from her on Monday night. She said that she had the money in the house, but as she wanted to test him she gave him a check for the $25. This check he took over to the Germania saloon to have cashed, but it was not cashed there.

Fritz Borchard took him next door into the store of the Fisher Wine Co., where the check was cashed. Next day when the check was presented for payment Mr. Fisher learned that payment had been stopped. Who will lose this $25 is yet to be seen.

When Miller went to Los Angeles Monday morning he said that he was going to take his clothes there to get them cleaned. After he had left the room it was found that he had taken everything belonging to him.

Fred Koessel, the real estate man, said that he had bargained with Miller for the purchase of his orange ranch at $16,000 and on the strength of that had loaned him $30.

Fancy Clothes

August Kuehn, the tailor, said that he had made Miller a dress suit at a cost of $47.50, and it had been delivered to him. Miller told Kuehn that his money was tied up in U. S. bonds and that it would be the 17th before he could get it.

Youngbluth's clothing store lost $10 which he still owed on an overcoat. He had ordered a hand bag and several other things, but they had not been delivered.

Mr. Mussoenus, who is known on the streets of Anaheim by the bob-tailed dog which is his constant companion, lost a board bill of $13.50. Miller told Mussoenus to order the best steaks and other groceries, for he could not eat the restaurant food, and that he would be well paid on the 17th.

Fritz Borchard, employed in the Germania saloon, loaned Miller $25, and he was to have gone to work this morning in the implement store at a good salary. Mr. Heitshusen also loaned Miller $15.

Marshal Kellenberger says that no complaint has as yet been sworn to, and nothing was being done so far as he knew to arrest Miller.

A Potpourri of News and Views

From the Los Angeles Financial News

El Segundo Refinery

The Standard Oil Bulletin in its last issue details how the El Segundo refinery of the company came to be erected, and also gives facts regarding the plant. Says the Bulletin:

"When it became apparent to the Standard Oil Company that there was likely to be sufficient permanent production of crude oil south of the Tehachapi to warrant it interesting itself in that territory it then decided to locate a refinery in proximity to the Southern California fields. At that time the trade in the southern part of the state and in Arizona was supplied from the company's refinery at Richmond. Unquestionably, this trade could be handled more advantageously with a plant closer to that market, so for the refinery in contemplation, which was named El Segundo—"The Second," as every Californian knows—a site was selected near Redondo. Today 23 miles of pipe line connect El Segundo with the Fullerton oil fields where, in the earlier days of this refinery, the company purchased oil to meet the needs of its new plant. Today, in that same territory, the company has production of its own sufficient to tax the capacity of its Southern refinery. El Segundo operates to the decided advantage of both manufacturer and consumer; it enables the company to supply its Southern patrons direct, and it has done away with the freight charges from Richmond to the South."

"The rapidity with which the work of building the plant was performed might lead to the belief that El Segundo is not much of a refinery—something like a demonstrating plant; it demonstrates to the extent of 15,000 barrels per day—that is its charging capacity, and it turns out 75 tons of asphalt at the same time. Part of the equipment necessary to this achievement consists of ten 200-horsepower horizontal tubular boilers, and one marine boiler of 250-horsepower. Besides 30 stills, ranging in capacity from 750 to 1000 barrels, there are storage facilities that will accommodate 275,000 barrels of crude oil, and 1,085,000 barrels of refined products. So it will readily be seen that El Segundo is by no means a small affair, even though it was but 139 days in the building."

"An acid plant with a daily production of 24,000 pounds of sulphuric acid was built at the same time for the purpose of purifying refined oils, and has been in successful operation ever since."

"El Segundo refinery is equipped to distribute its product both by land and sea. A wharf was constructed, extending 4000 feet out into the open ocean. Here fuel oil, refined oil, gasoline and engine distillate are loaded into tankers for San Pedro, San Diego, and other south coast ports, and for Honolulu. Should the Southern California oil fields play out this wharf could handle the crude oil that would be brought by tank steamers from other fields. The storage tanks for refined products are so situated that the contents will gravitate into the steamers or cars at the loading racks at a rate of 3500 to 4000 barrels per hour. The loading racks accommodate 50 cars at a time. Their efficiency was demonstrated during the heavy frosts of 1912-1913, when the Standard Oil Company met the rush orders of frantic orange growers by shipping Fuel Oil for orchard heating at a rate of 100 cars per day from the loading racks at El Segundo refinery."

Why Liquid Fuel is Used

The Pacific Coast Steamship Company, which owns its own coal mines, will equip its vessels with oil burners, as mentioned heretofore by The Financial News. The reason for the change to liquid fuel is explained by the president of the company, J. C. Ford, thus:

"Oil has become more expensive than coal. Owning our own coal mines and bunkers, therefore, we could use coal at a much less expense if it were not for other circumstances. Coal takes up too much space. Bunkers are provided in the President and the Governor for 500 tons of coal. About 800 tons are required for the round trip, so each voyage from Puget Sound they leave with 300 tons of coal encroaching upon the cargo space. Oil can be carried in the double bottoms of the President and the Governor as in the Congress. This will save 300 tons' space now occupied by coal and give the additional 500 tons' bunker room for freight, which we need since coastwise freight traffic has made tremendous growth, compelling the charter of extra vessels. The Queen hasn't double bottoms, but her coal must be hauled to San Francisco for every southern voyage. Besides these reasons, oil is a cleaner fuel for passenger steamships."

Must Pay Corporation Tax

Mining corporations must pay the corporation tax imposed by the Payne-Aldrich tariff act, according to a decision by the Supreme Court of the United States. Eight or ten million dollars have been paid to the Government by such corporations under protest, and 500 suits or claims were started to recover the money. The case came to the Court through Stratton's Independence, Ltd., of Colorado, which unsuccessfully contended that proceeds from ore mined by a corporation from its own premises were not "income" within the meaning of the corporation tax law, but a conversion of capital into money. The Court also held that the corporations were not entitled to deduct the value of ore before it was mined "as depreciation." Chief Justice White and Justices McKenna and Holmes dissented on the latter point.

Will Sue Importers

For a number of years the appraisement of Limoges china has been the cause of dispute between the Customs authorities and importers. Several of the latter have contended that the merchandise should be entered at the market price prevailing at Paris at the time of export; others have asserted that the china was only dutiable at factory prices. The Government has now instituted penalty suits against importers asking judgments for $4,592,150 for alleged undervaluation during the period December 7, 1910, to date.

Government Ownership Railroads

"Present conditions of the money market, the attitude of the public, and recent legislation are tending to force Government ownership of railroads. The public is not disposed to give railroads their rights." This is the view of B. F. Bush, president of the Missouri Pacific Railway system, regarding railroad conditions in this country and outlined by him in an address before the Missouri Pacific Club in St. Louis. He predicted that Government ownership of the railways would be a failure.

Goes to Australia for Meat

Holding contracts to supply all Governmental forces and signal stations in Alaska with fresh meats the Pacific Cold Storage Company of Tacoma has dispatched its refrigerator steamer, Ellii Thompson, to Australia for a cargo of one million pounds of beef and mutton. It is the intention of the company later on to bring supplies of frozen meats from Australia to Los Angeles.

Business Conditions Healthy

In an analysis of general trade conditions throughout the country the National Bank of Commerce of St. Louis takes an optimistic view. General business conditions, declares the bank, are active and healthy, despite political unrest, and approximate a boom era. Here is what the bank report says in part:

"A careful analysis of the business situation at this time shows clearly that the majority of complaints heard about business operations during the last two years have been without real foundation or reason. Taking the total of all big things done in business for the past 24 months, we find from Government and other dependable statistics that new records have been set."

"Bank clearings, foreign trade, production of gold, coal and base metals, earnings of railroads and crop production have all, during the 24 months, exceeded any similar period. These great activities have caused a tight money market because we haven't enough of the circulating medium and scarce money in turn has caused business failures to increase materially, both in number of failed concerns and total liabilities."

"Shrinkage in the volume of business for a time necessarily must ensue in a period marked by the induction of a new administration, tariff revision, currency reform and prospect of spirited anti-trust legislation, though in the face of depressing influences, the bank clearings for the ten months of 1913 were $141,000,000,000, as against $143,000,000,000 for the first ten months of 1912."

"The crop of wheat shows an increase over 1912, while corn, oats, buckwheat, barley, potatoes, tobacco, etc., show a decrease. However, the average price of farm products offset this decrease."

Strengthening Irrigation Bonds

Irrigationists in California have inaugurated a movement to strengthen the position of irrigation bonds which they hope to have crystallized into law to be presented to the people through the initiative at the next election. It is proposed that the State shall put a guarantee upon irrigation bonds. The Oroville Register, speaking about the movement, says:

"Robert L. Hargrove of Madera, one of the best equipped irrigationists in the State, is at the head of a committee of the San Joaquin Valley Water Problems Association which has under consideration two plans, by one of which the initiative will be invoked in the State election next year. What appears to be the more favored of these two propositions has the approval of the bond houses and has been submitted to the association by L. A. Nares of Fresno, who is heavily interested in irrigation enterprises. In effect it is a plan for insuring irrigation bonds just as the Torrens law insures the title to property. It provides that the State shall get squarely behind 'the one thing on which the State depends—water.' The normal flow of water in the San Joaquin Valley is now exhausted, or pre-empted, and ranchers hereafter must depend upon high cost enterprises, money for the construction of which is not obtainable in the State under present conditions."

"The proposition is that the State should use its own bonds to take up irrigation district bonds which it would acquire at four per cent, while the district would really pay six per cent, the difference of two per cent being put into a fund as a guarantee, but to be eventually returned to the district, minus the cost of State supervision, which cost would be about one-fourth of one per cent. There would be a State board composed of a first-class hydraulic engineer, an eminent attorney and some business man who had won success through ability directed along honest lines."

"While this proposition meets the approval of representatives of the bond houses, an alternative suggested by A. L. Cowell is under consideration. With a State board appointed, as provided in the first plan, the State then, under the second plan, would give its direct guarantee of irrigation bonds without any two per cent variation."

FREE LECTURE ON EXPOSITION TO BE AN EXCELLENT ONE

Dr. Frederick V. Fisher is to deliver a free and magnificently illustrated lecture at the Grand Opera House tomorrow night on the Panama Exposition. After the lecture in Long Beach R. L. Bisby, secretary of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, wrote the following letter to Dr. Fisher:

"My Dear Dr. Fisher:—In estimating the attendance of last night I think I am not amiss when I say that 2000 people in the city of Long Beach were fortunate enough to hear your lecture.

"In my work I have come in contact with and have seen a good many so-called lectures and entertainments, and I want to say to you that I enjoyed every moment of that hour and forty-five minutes that you put in, in making absolutely clear to our people the work that has been done on the Panama Canal, as well as what you planned to do at San Francisco, and, not only that, but your lecture in many ways lacked the selfishness of local color, inasmuch as you gave Southern California and Arizona a very fair representation.

"If at this time this office can be of any service to you by way of saying a good word for you or your lecture, please do not hesitate to call upon me."

Fire Guard Builds Home in Tree Top

The most ingenious fire lookout station on California forests during the current fire season is said to be the home which Forest Guard Howard Tyrrell built for himself in the top of a yellow pine on Bullion Mountain, Klamath National Forest, one hundred feet above the ground.

Tyrrell was assigned to the Bullion Mountain lookout by the Forest Service in co-operation with the California Fruit Growers Supply Association, the association furnishing him with supplies and subsistence and the Forest Service paying his salary.

Tyrrell located his tree home soon after the opening of the fire season. He erected sixty feet of ladders up the trunk of a giant pine, from which point limbs afforded him an opportunity to climb fifteen feet higher. Here in the forks, seventy-five feet from the ground Tyrrell built a platform about eight feet square upon which he spreads his bed and spends each night during the fire season.

For a day lookout he climbed twenty-five feet further up and erected a smaller platform where he sits during the day. Five or six feet above this second platform the forks of the tree dwindle to a diameter of about five inches each. These tops Tyrrell sawed off, and on them he spiked a beam where he clammers when smoke appears and sights his fire with an absolutely uninterrupted view of the surrounding forest.

A number of visitors have climbed to the first platform, and three or four have made the second. No one but Tyrrell, however, has ascended to the crosspiece in the treetop.

Next year this enterprising fire guard expects to build a small house with glass sides on the lower platform, where the telephone is hung. With cooking apparatus installed, trips to earth will be rare.

"It gets a little lonesome up there once in awhile," said Tyrrell, "but there's plenty of squirrels and birds around. May be another year I'll learn how to eat pine cones and drink."

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The first car of California rice coming to the Los Angeles market has been received and is already distributed, according to reports. The price obtained by the wholesaler is $4.75 per hundred, a figure a trifle in excess of that being paid for imported Japanese rice. The quality of the California product is said to exceed that of the Japanese rice and among the heaviest purchasers of the home product are the Japanese themselves who declare that it will cook up better than that from their native country.

The importation of some Philippine sugar to the Pacific coast markets is said to be a partial cause for the drop in that commodity which came without similar drop in the East, where the prices are generally made.

There were no changes in the egg market. Northern quotations were a trifle weak, but this caused no decrease from the 45-cent price on case count here.

Butter was in good demand and the market for the product was steady.

There was no change in the potato or onion situation.

SEGREGATION QUESTION IS AGAIN TALKED

Another Attempt to Be Made to Separate Anaheim Union Water Co. Stock

Anaheim Gazette: Stockholders in the Anaheim Union Water Company, representing about 1000 shares, met at the city trustees' room at Fullerton on Friday evening, and discussed the propriety of again attempting segregation of oil and water stock at the annual meeting to be held in this city on Saturday, January 31. Segregation has been twice defeated by stockholders at their annual meetings, yet so insistent are the separatists that a harder fight for segregation will be pulled off at the annual meeting next month. C. C. Chapman, the largest stockholder in the company, is the moving spirit in the movement, as he has been since the subject was taken up for discussion two years ago. His position is that the price of water shares, which are now rated at $225, is too high, and that these figures militate against the sale of property. He desires to divest water stock of the value imparted to it by oil, and holds that a fair valuation of the former should be in the neighborhood of $50.

Moreover, the price of water stock is constantly advancing and with continued development by Amalgamated Oil of the 449 acres of reservoir tract it is believed that these figures will show very material increase. The Amalgamated company has paid the water company $73,000 this year in royalties, and $48,000 last year. This is one-eighth of the oil produced, which has amounted in two years to a million and a quarter dollars. The oil company is now pumping from ten wells, and there are twelve other wells on the tract which are said to be low producers that no oil is being taken from them.

The bulk of stockholders in the water company are opposed to segregation, and at the last two annual meetings vigorous contests were waged against that policy. Segregation was at each of the two annual meetings decisively defeated. Many stockholders are outspoken in expression of their views concerning segregation. They state freely that if oil and water shares be separated, and a new oil company formed, having only 8,000 shares of stock, based upon oil lands which are probably worth tens of millions of dollars, manipulators may acquire control of the company and shear the land.

They point out that it is necessary to secure only 4000 shares of this stock to obtain a working majority, and with 1000 shares already lined up by the separatists, it will require only about 3000 shares to be purchased in order to obtain control. It is said, further, that small holdings of stock may be purchased if segregation should come to pass, and that it would not require many years for manipulators to secure a firm neckhold on the company. Once in control of the company, its offices would probably be moved elsewhere, possibly to Los Angeles, or may be to some more distant point. It is held by these stockholders that this would tend to nullify local influence upon conducting the company and that local stockholders, being in the minority, will have little if anything to say about shaping the company's affairs. Whether absorption of the company is aimed at or not, certain it is that the rank and file of stockholders will put up a vigorous fight against segregation at the annual meeting.

ABOUT $1250 IS SUBSCRIBED

Anaheim Committee Getting Funds to Dyke the Santa Ana River

ANAHEIM, Dec. 18.—In order to secure the promised $50,000 reinforced concrete bridge to replace the frame structure at Olive, the committee appointed by the Anaheim Board of Trade is making every effort to arrange for adequate river protection in that vicinity. Approximately $1250 has been subscribed by property owners in that section and by the public-spirited men of this city. The money is to be used in building dykes along the river channel. The plans are to drive piling along this channel in such a manner as to assure the river remaining within the bounds of 600 feet.

Anaheim Lodge, Knights of Pythias held its installation of officers last evening in the presence of the Grand Prelate and a number of other distinguished members of the order from various Southern California points. Walter Amstutz was installed Chancellor Commander; Charles Hedges, Vice-Chancellor; Clinton Idler, Keeper of Records and Seal; B. T. Beale, Master of Finance; Alexander Henry, Master of Exchequer; Frank Goodrich, Master of Work; Henry Amburst, Master of Arms; M. Sandy, Prelate; O. Baxter, Inner Guard; R. Fossek, Outer Guard.

NOT BEYOND HELP AT 87
—Sleep-disturbing bladder weakness, stiffness in joints, weak, inactive kidney action and rheumatic pains, are all evidence of kidney trouble. Mrs. Mary A. Dean, 47 E. Walnut St., Taunton, Mass., writes: "I have passed by 87th birthday, and thought I was beyond the reach of medicine, but Foley Kidney Pills have proved most beneficial in my case of kidney and bladder trouble." Elderly people will find Foley Kidney Pills both tonic and strengthening, and may be sure they contain no harmful drugs. Wingood's Drug Store.
